2^d verse. Love, gentle love shall be our guide to a far distant

Yes I will leave my Father's halls To roam a long with land, And whether bliss or woe be tide, This heart you shall command I'll tell you thee, A dieu a dieu my native walls, To other scenes I flee. Yes we will tales of olden, years, Of hapless love or war, But seek the silent glade When we have stray'd a far, And should they cause you pearly tears Then sound the gay Gui=tar But should they cause you you shall play, my dearest maid, Songs on your light Gui=tar, And you shall play my pearly tears Then sound the gay Gui=tar Then sound Loves sweet Gui=tar..... Then dearest maid songs on your light Gui=tar Songs on your light Gui=tar sound the gay Gui=tar

Songs on your light Gui=tar

2

Love, gentle love shall be our guide

To a far distant land,

And whether bliss or woe betide,

This heart you shall command.

I'll tell you tales of olden years,

Of hapless love or war,

But should they cause you pearly tears

Then sound the gay Guitar:]

Then sound &c.
